The library is becoming increasingly important in the educational program of the modern liberal arts college. It has long since ceased to be primarily a storehouse for books, and has become a service building where faculty and students may find tools for effective learning, teaching, and research. Goshen College library has made rapid strides in recent years in its holdings and the training of the staff, so that today its major need is an adequate physical plant. Happily this problem approaches a successful solution. The governing board of the college has authorized construction of a new $50,000 library building, with book capacity for 50,000 volumes, as soon as the present campaign for funds is completed. Construction will be begun in the autumn with completion in time for dedication at commencement in June, 1939. A special feature of the building will be the Mennonite Historical Library which is to be located on the ground floor, with which is incorporated the general archives of the Mennonite Church. The name chosen for the building, Goshen College Memorial Library, will call to mind the spirit and service of the forefathers of the Mennonite Church. With the completion of this new building, Goshen College will have made another long stride forward toward its goal of entrance into the North Central Association, and toward more effective service for its constituency.

FOREWORD

In the years when time and space separate us from the life of our Alma Mater may the message contained in this volume turn our thoughts again to the friends whose fellowship we enjoyed here, and bring us home to the scenes we love so dearly.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Motto: "No Victory Without Labor"

Class Colors: Maroon and White

Class Flower: Rose

Early in September, 1934, one hundred and ten young men and women came to the campus of Goshen College for the purpose of learning to live for and to serve God and their fellowmen in a better way. After the "Get Acquainted" social and the first party which was sponsored by the Faculty Committee, we became better acquainted and became an organized body choosing Don Kreider as our president supported by Maurice Burkholder, vice-president; Olive Yoder, secretary; Beulah Troyer, treasurer; and Emanuel Hertzler, historian. We chose maroon and white as our class colors and the rose for our class flower. Paul Bender was invited to be our class sponsor and "No Victory Without Labor" was selected as an appropriate class motto. The outstanding activities of the class during the first year were the scavenger hunt in January and the Class Day Outing at Camp Mack.

In the fall of 1935, eighty-four members of the class returned to the campus to begin work for another year. Charles Neff was chosen president; Henry Lapp, vice-president; Elizabeth Sieber, secretary; Don Kreider, treasurer; and Emanuel Hertzler, historian. The outstanding events of the year were the original "Backwards Party" which was held between semesters and the "sleighting" party in January. The Class Day Outing was held at Pokagan State Park.

Even though the class declined in membership from eighty-four to thirty in the junior year there was an increase in class spirit and quality was more important than quantity. Waldo Lehman was selected president with the assistance of John Friesen, vice-president; Lois M. Yoder, secretary; and Emanuel Hertzler, treasurer. With fond memory we think of the first party of the year in Shoup's woods; the after dinner program given in the form of a mock trial; the evening we welcomed the seniors home from their "Sneak day"; the Hallowe'en party at the home of Ruth Buzzard; the class reunion at Homecoming and another sleighing party after which we went to Raymond Yoder's home for hot chili. We spent our Class day Outing at Lake Webster.

This fall our senior class totalled forty-three in membership, under the guidance of John Friesen, as president; Myrtle Schnell, vice-president; Thelma Oyer, secretary; Paul Miller, treasurer; and Lois M. Yoder, historian. Besides the class breakfasts including the breakfast during Homecoming, and the picnics, we enjoyed the St. Patrick's party with Thelma Oyer and Alta Good as our hostesses, and the Sneak Day at Turkey Run State Park.

Although this commencement marks the end of four years of happy fellowship together, we believe that our unity will remain indissoluble and that each member of our class will go out and be of greater service to the church and community because of having attended Goshen College.

—Lois M. Yoder.

BECAUSE

She sang,
Because she sang, his day was strangely fair.
The happy tune she tossed upon the air
Re-echoed in his heart and banished care, Filled him with courage strong to do and dare—
Because she sang.

She prayed.
Because she prayed, the day for him was bright.
He knew not why his burden was made light,
Nor why, in choosing, he had chosen right;
But grace and strength were his from morn till night—
Because she prayed.

—Anna Hallman.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Motto: "He Conquers Who Endures"

Colors: Scarlet and Grey

Flower: Yellow Tea Rose

With the re-organization of our class in September, we again realized that the numerical greatness of a class is less important than the personality and spirit of its members. Although our membership had decreased from ninety-three Freshmen to twenty-three Juniors, we became associated with many of the worthwhile activities on the campus. In the A Cappella chorus were Kathryn Hershberger, Mae Orendorff, Elizabeth Sieber, Maurice Burkholder, Ralph Greener, Isaiah Harley, and Paul Yoder. Active members of the debate teams were Isaiah Harley and Paul Yoder. Other Juniors contributed in leadership and membership of the literary societies, the religious organizations, and the foreign language clubs. With the cooperation of the Seniors, we were successful in the athletic contests. Under the executive guidance of Maurice Burkholder as president, Samuel Bucher as vice-president, Elizabeth Sieber as secretary, and Isaiah Harley as treasurer, we are concluding an interesting year of activities.

One of the outstanding "social successes" of our year was our prevention of the Senior "sneak" in addition to our own "mock sneak" in March. On this historical occasion, we noiselessly left the campus in the early hours and drove to a cabin on Fairlawn Road where we enjoyed breakfast and various stunts. The Seniors chose to ignore the incident. Other Junior parties included an outing at Bonneyville Mills under the supervision of Kathryn Hershberger's social committee and the entertainment of the class by our sponsor, Miss Shenk, at the home of Mrs. Hoovens on South Eighth. After we had survived the trials of candy-making, Mrs. Hoovens gave an interesting talk on her western travels.

In a few months we shall return to our campus as most-envied college Seniors. To this year's Seniors we offer our sincere congratulations. To the underclassmen we offer encouragement. It is our hope that all of us have been inspired by the ideals of our college and have been united through friendships and shared happiness.

—Betty Trump.

RAIN

Just a walk in the rain at the dawn of day,
And you sing as you go along,
For even the sparrows' chirp seems gay,
And you forget the hurt of the wrong
That your neighbor dealt to you yesterday.

Just a walk in the rain, hear its drip, drip,
drop.
See the whirls in the puddles as it falls,
Your steps grow slower, you almost stop
As a cowslip nods and to you calls,
"Its a great grand world if you stay on top."

Just a walk in the rain when God is so near,
You talk to Him, He talks to you,
And you gain new strength and vision
made clear
And you consecrate all to His love anew
Then say, "Thank You for the rain, Father
dear."

—Isabelle King.

SUNSET OVER THE ELKHART RIVER

The setting sun is sinking low
Beyond the dim horizon,
The tall tree silhouettes against the sky
Near colored rays of parting sun.
One lone star bravely vigil keeps
Among the rose and blue;
The Master Artist gives the waves
A touch of this reflected hue.
The sky peeps down to see its face
Within the mirror of the sea
And finds the Master's steady hand
Has blended colors wondrously.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

Motto: "Rowing, Not Drifting"

Colors: Blue and Gold

Flower: Yellow American Beauty Rose

September—1936—

One hundred twenty freshmen, coming from as far east as eastern New York, as far west as western Oregon, as far north as Canada, as far south as Texas, and from eight states besides, swarmed onto the campus of Goshen College.

Ups and downs met them. But there was an extra number of ups because they soon discovered there was quality as well as quantity. These freshmen scored high in forensics and they kept their place in athletics.

The class was definitely organized at the beginning of the second semester with Virgil Gerig as president; John Smucker, vice president; Frances Barnard, secretary; Elizabeth Plank, treasurer; and Richard Culp, historian.

Throwing off all reserve and formality which freshmen might be expected to have, we enjoyed a Snowbound party in the gym. The Class Day Outing at "The Dunes" was stamped in our minds by rain, wet sand and wading along the beach.

September—1937—

Seventy-six—only seventy-six of those freshmen came back.

This year we are scoring again in intercollegiate debate, discussion, declamation, music, and athletics.

We have as president, Franklin Bishop; vice president, Lawrence Stump; secretary, Edith King; treasurer, William Allen.

High spots to be remembered most vividly are: a treasure hunt, a party in the cabin by the Elkhart, and a sleighing party, "just around Goshen," with cocoa and doughnuts afterwards in the Eighth Street cabin.

Almost half of the class will be turning to teaching either as a profession or as a stepping stone.

And so, whether at the Alma Mater or some other place, we'll row, not drift.

—Ruth Sieber.

WHAT AM I?

What am I?
The scientist frowned,
But merely said,
"You are protons and electrons
Revolving around,
Built into elements;
And run by a law
Precisely sound.

What am I?
I have eyes with which to see,
And ears with which to hear,
And a mind, whatever that might be;
But more than that I have a soul,
Despite the scientist's decree;
Yet, I shall never know
What makes the human process go
Or what I am,
For when I die I'm still all there
And the puzzled scientists all sigh.
Now, what am I?

—Robert Dutter Walter.

SPRING

I am so glad again for spring
That I must listen to each bird sing.
I must watch each flower grow—
Watch their colors flame and glow.
I must watch the clouds sail by
Like dreamy boats in a sea of sky.
I must touch each blade of grass,
And smile at children as they pass.
I must feel with my body the pulsing
earth;
See with my eyes each thing's re-birth,
And drink in the sweetness of fragrant
rain—
I may not see the spring again.

—Mary Welty.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

Motto: "God our Guide, Service our Path, Success our Goal"

Class Flower: White Chrysanthemum

Class Colors: Blue and Silver

On September 14 a class of students entered Goshen College, many of whom left their homes for the first time. These students, in quantity surpassing the three previous Freshman classes, represent 13 states besides Canada and India. Time will continue to reveal their standing in quality.

At the end of the first semester, we organized our class by electing as president, Charles Ainley; vice president, Ralph Hernley; secretary, Doris Stucky; treasurer, Joe Burkholder; and historian, Shirley Erb. As class sponsor we chose Dr. Guy Hershberger.

As debaters Charles Ainley and Robert Kreider established a new record for a single Goshen College team by winning five out of six debates in the Annual Intercollegiate Debate Tournament. Dwight Stoltzfus with a Sophomore as colleague won three out of five debates.

Social events consisted of the Freshman social at the beginning of the school year, the mid-term class social, and the class outing at the close of the year.

Athletics proved a pleasant diversion. In the men's interclass tournament the Freshman A team came out victor while in the Freshman-Sophomore tournament the Freshman girls were also victorious.

We hope to continue these pleasant associations in the coming year.

—Shirley Erb.

CONTENTMENT

Yesterday, the cloudless sky kept trying
To blend the striking rays of sun
With its own bright blue.
Unsuccessful! The wind was shrieking,
When day was through.

Today, the cloud-filled sky was blended
Into the dullest rays of sun
With perfect harmony.
"Beautiful!" the wind was whispering,
In sincere ecstasy.

Always, when cares of life keep coming
To mingle with the sunshine in my soul,
And peace absorbs,
"Blessed art thou" says the still small voice
of Him,
Our suffering Lord.

—Estella Sutter.

WANDERLUST

I knew you were weary and long on the road—
For your coat was heavy with sleet and snow.
I wanted to ask you in
But I didn't.
My finger was on the latch-string,
But I knew if the sun fell warm on the sill
I would go to the call of spring.
I have work to do
So I latch my door
To the lure of lilacs and spring
Until another day.

POST GRADUATES

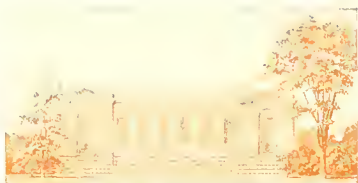

Goshen College does not maintain a graduate school except in the Bible Department where for the present it offers the first year of the Seminary course. Each year, however, there are a number of students who are graduates of Goshen or other colleges. These students come because they appreciate the life and spirit of the school or because of the quality of instruction they receive here.

The past year this group consisted of eleven students of which six—Timothy H. Brenneman, Elida, Ohio; Earle Brillhart, Scottsdale, Pennsylvania; John Duerksen, Kingman, Kansas; Clarence Fretz, Perkasio, Pennsylvania; Lester Hershey, Trenque Lauquen, Argentina; Harriet Lapp, Dhamtari, C. P., India; and George Holderman, La Junta, Colorado—were registered in the Bible School. Chester Brothers, Goshen, Indiana; Oswin Gerber, Dalton, Ohio; Helen (Mrs.) Schnell, Goshen, Indiana; and Samuel Swartz, Elida, Ohio, were registered in the Liberal Arts or Teacher Training Department.

It is not the purpose of Goshen College to develop a graduate school except in the field of Bible. It, however, welcomes graduates to the various curriculums, and aims to provide adequate instruction for all who come. Of those who registered in Bible this year, Timothy Brenneman, John Duerksen, Clarence Fretz, Lester Hershey and Harriet Lapp will receive the Th.B. degree in June. It is the purpose of the administration to expand the Bible curriculum as rapidly as possible to cover the complete course leading to a B.D. degree.

To those of you who have taken part in the activities on the campus of Goshen College, it will be very clear that the administration of our Alma-Mater is not only interested in providing a means whereby the youth of our Church can obtain high scholastic achievement, but is vitally interested in being an effective agency to promote "Culture for Service." One way of fostering such a program is to provide an agency that will make it possible for the students to give expression to their desire to serve, and thus stimulate interest in true Christian service. This is the primary purpose of the Y.M.C.A. As Christian young men, we are interested in developing our lives in such a manner that they will be a true testimony of manly and practical Christianity. To accomplish this, it is necessary to build up a strong spirit of genuine sincerity; to build up a spirit that will drive one to living an outward life that corresponds with his inner self. Sincere, manly, Christian living has been the aim of the Y. M. C. A. during the past school year. One of the projects that has been sponsored by the "Y" during the past term is the distribution of a small, weekly, devotional guide. The purpose of this little leaflet is to stimulate interest in daily devotions. The guide is edited by a student who is a cabinet member. Another project that has been fostered is the cabinet retreat to be held each fall before the opening of school. At this meeting the conjoint cabinet formulates its policy for the coming year and considers student needs. As a cabinet, during the past year we have endeavored to serve the college in its efforts to promote an interest in Christian service. We have attempted to do this by emphasizing sincerity, and it is our hope that every student on the campus will be able to pray with the psalmist David, "Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer."

—Waldo Lehman.

YWCA

Among the many organizations which function on the campus, the Young Women's Christian Association is of great importance in serving the women of the college. The aim of this association is briefly expressed in its motto "To Know Christ and to Make Him Known." How important it is for the true Christian to really know Christ; not merely as a character from the Bible, but as a Savior, a Guide, the Best Friend. Only those who know Him thus can be effective in making Him known. It need not always be lip service, but the constant testimony of the consecrated Christian life.

The Y. W. C. A., through its many activities, strives to promote Christian growth, and to give expression to this growth by affording opportunities for Christian service. One who has tasted the real joys of working for Christ will wish to devote his life more fully to Him, and to extend the borders of His Kingdom.

The work of the Y. W. C. A. is divided among ten cabinet members, most of whom work with committees. These committees cooperate with those of the Y. M. C. A. in much of the work. The Extension Committee plans programs for the jail, White Cross Mission in Elkhart, and for requests which come in from the surrounding community. It is the work of the Bible Study Committee to arrange a series of Bible Study classes some time during the year, to help with the prayer meetings, and morning devotionals in the dining hall. The Mission Study Committee plans Mission Study Classes for the students. Other committees provide for the Thursday devotional program, appoint big sisters for new students, take charge of social activities and other work.

May the efforts of the Y. W. C. A. never lose sight of the greatest of aims "To Know Christ and to Make Him Known."

GOSPEL TEAMS

Students and faculty members of Goshen College gladly pay tribute to the leaders of our various Mennonite communities who, with the school, are making it possible for young people of our Church to build up and enrich their Christian experience by open participation in Christian testimony. This year two groups were again sent out, one group into Iowa and Minnesota and a second into Illinois and Indiana. Traveling in the former group were Clarence Fretz, Leland Bachman, Lawrence Burkholder, and John Friesen. Accompanying these speakers was a quartette made up of alumni with the exception of Maurice Burkholder. These men, having a vacation which also fitted into our program, consented to spend part of their vacation on this tour. The quartette was composed of Maurice Burkholder, Vernon Miller, Charles Neff, and Francis Smucker. The personnel of the second group included five speakers, Waldo Lehman, Ralph Hernley, S. Paul Miller, Emanuel Hertzler, and Lloyd Conrad. They were accompanied by the Sophomore quartette, David Bender, John Smucker, Franklin Bishop, and Virgil Gerig. The theme of the programs for both groups was "Living for Christ." This theme was selected in order to give each speaker greater opportunity to express himself in terms of his own convictions. The groups feel that the experience was well worth what little sacrifice was involved. Both teams came home feeling that the greatest benefits were not in what was given but in personal contacts made and in the Christian fellowship which they enjoyed.

—John Friesen.

FOREIGN VOLUNTEER BAND

Among the organizations on the campus is one which consists of people who are definitely interested in full-time Christian service. Perhaps not all will some time be officially appointed to active service for the Church in foreign lands, but they have volunteered and are trying to fit themselves in every way possible for more efficient service for God through the Church. It is certainly a privilege which our young people have in being able to come to a church school in which are stressed missionary activities, Bible study, and preparation for service. The Band has met every two weeks throughout the year, usually on Sunday afternoons, and has had very interesting, inspirational, and vital programs. Several meetings were given over to the discussion of what constitutes a call to active service. When missionaries were available, they gave helpful, inspirational talks, and the needs of the foreign fields were presented from many different angles. In the busy life of the campus it is necessary that time be taken to think of others who are working in distant fields, spreading the Gospel to lost people. Each message and each program left a challenge to do better the work that is being done in the line of Christian service here, to grow in spiritual life, and to follow Christ anywhere He leads. As a result of the meetings this year, the members of the Foreign Volunteer Band have a better understanding of the problems of the foreign missionaries. Therefore they can pray, help, and give more intelligently to these fields and be in greater sympathy with those who are there giving their lives in service. The president is John Friesen; secretary, Ruth Duerksen; and third executive member, Viola Good.

—Ruth Duerksen.

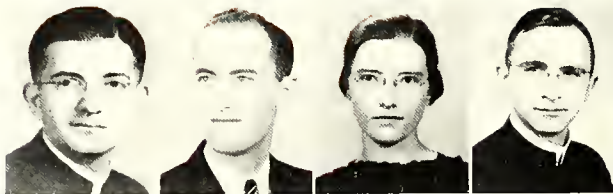

First Row—Ruth Lehman, Mary Royer, Ruth Duerksen, John Friesen, Viola Good, Paul Mminger, Anna Hallman.

Second Row—Henrietta Herr, Kathryn Miller, Kathryn Yoder, Ella Mae Weaver, Winifred Nelson, Nancy Hernley, Ruth King, Eva Stauffer, Angelina Tyson, Vesta Nafziger.

BIBLE CIRCLE

Leland Bachman

John Duerksen

Ruth Duerksen

Paul Mininger

Each year has brought added interest in one of the newer organizations on the campus of Goshen College. This year has surpassed all previous years in number of members, interest in programs, and in activities. In all there were thirty-three members, most of whom came from students registered in the regular Bible Department of the college. Semi-monthly meetings brought forth interesting programs, encouraging young people to serve in the church; to witness for Christ here and in their home communities; information concerning mission work both at home and in the foreign fields; and activities in the home communities of the members. All of these helped the members to apply themselves much more efficiently in the pursuit of Bible knowledge as students in Goshen College. During the year the group also held a number of social activities, such as a banquet, a marshmallow roast, and an early morning breakfast in the woods. This year the members of the Circle undertook the project of redecorating the Bible Room. They donated their labor in painting and varnishing the room and also purchased a number of pictures. Leland Bachman is president of the Bible Circle; John Duerksen, vice president; and Ruth Duerksen, secretary. Paul Mininger served as faculty adviser.

—Leland Bachman.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS' BAND

The Christian Workers' Band again proved itself a worth-while organization on the campus. The influence of the organization was felt through two avenues; a weekly Sunday morning service at 6:30 and a midweek prayer meeting which met each Wednesday at 6:20 A. M. The latter meeting was begun last year, and has continued with success. The pooling of our needs and the uniting of our hearts in prayer has certainly proved itself to be beneficial in developing an appreciation and concern for one another's Christian experience. The Sunday morning service still serves as a stimulus for the week. What is more encouraging is the fact that a greater number of students are feeling the inspiration which is derived from regular attendance at this meeting. On comparing records with previous years, we feel the interest has grown. The average attendance has been between sixty and seventy; several times it has exceeded one hundred. Numbers are not always indicative of life, but the testimony of students and the dedication of their lives to the cause of Christ makes us feel that this organization cannot pass unnoticed. John Friesen is president and Thelma Oyer, secretary-treasurer.

PEACE SOCIETY

Don Kreider
Emanuel Hertzler
Lloyd Conrad
Leland Bachman

This society was organized in 1935 to promote peace education and to encourage scholarship and research in the Biblical teachings on war and peace, the history of the peace movement, and the Christian's relation to the state. Five or more meetings are held annually for the discussion of some peace problem. A new feature this year was a panel discussion on the peace teachings of the Mennonite church as stated by the 1937 General Conference. This was followed by a peace poll in which students and faculty took part. Financially, the work of the society is supported by membership fees, by subsidies from the Peace Problems Committee of the Mennonite Church, and by occasional contributions from other sources. The society contributes regularly about twenty-five periodicals to the college library and this year purchased about fifty dollars worth of books for the library. A small research fund has also been established, amounting at present to $75.00. The officers for 1937-38 were: Don Kreider, president; Emanuel Hertzler, vice president; Lloyd Conrad, secretary; Leland Bachman, treasurer; Guy F. Hershberger, faculty chairman of board of directors.

—Guy Hershberger.

MENNONITE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

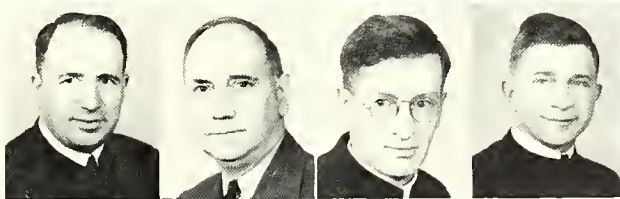

This organization comprises most of the faculty and some students who are interested in the study of Mennonite history. The society promotes interest in the history and life of the Mennonite Church through public programs, lectures, and publications. It was founded in 1924 by H. S. Bender and Ernst Correll.

Among other activities carried on by the Society, it helps maintain and build up the Mennonite Historical Library of Goshen College. This is a unique collection of books and documents essential for research in all phases of Mennonite history. It publishes for the College a quarterly journal, the Mennonite Quarterly Review, which has won recognition here and abroad as an indispensable publication of its kind. Three books have so far been published by the society in a series of studies in Anabaptist and Mennonite history, and a fourth volume is to appear during 1938. The society is keenly interested in plans for the construction of a fireproof library on the Goshen College campus, where the valuable collection of historical material can be protected and a Mennonite research center will be established.

The officers are: Harold S. Bender, president; Silas Hertzler, secretary; Edward Yoder, treasurer; John Coffman, librarian.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

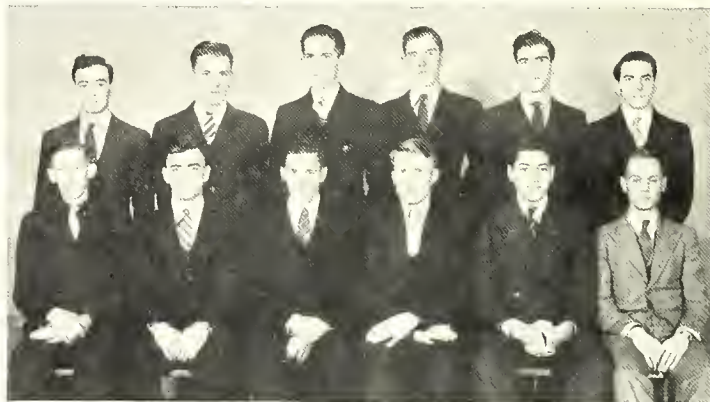

To the women who come to Goshen College with an active interest in any phase of home economics work, the Home Economics Club extends a welcoming hand. The specific purpose of its organization was to develop a professional spirit among the members and to keep in touch with current trends in the world of home economics. During the '37-'38 term meetings have been held bi-weekly and, while the members continued some form of handwork, topics of interest were discussed. At one meeting handcrafts were studied. Social etiquette tests were given by our sponsor, Miss Wyse. At one time Mrs. Glen Miller spoke to the club concerning the voice as a social asset, and at still another meeting Miss Wyse discussed trends in spring clothing. President, Winifred Nelson; vice-president, Arlowene Stiver; treasurer, Gertrude Blough; secretary, Myrtle Kolb.

—Myrtle Kolb.

CAMERA CLIQUE

Last year a group of men on the campus organized a club, known as the Aurora Snapshooters, to aid members in making pictures for personal pleasure. This year the club changed its name to the Camera Clique, its main purpose being to teach the members to develop and print their own pictures. By doing this they learn to see the defects in their pictures and also learn how to correct these defects in order that the pictures may more distinctly embody the scenes of past experiences. The aim of the club is to develop in each member the ability to make each picture a masterpiece of beauty. The president is Vernon Schmidt; secretary-treasurer, Carl Miller.

—Vernon Schmidt.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Le Cercle Francais was organized in order to increase the interest in France and to create a deeper appreciation for her literature, life customs, art, music, ideals and culture. It attempts to unite those interested in the French language.

The club meets monthly under the sponsorship of Miss Shenk, instructor in French at the college. The programs usually consist of musical numbers, recitations, readings and extracts from French drama. Entertainment is provided by the playing of French games which are helpful in furthering fluency in the students' use of the French language.

Six new members were initiated and given formal entrance to the French Club at the first meeting of the year. For the November meeting, the "Cercle" accepted the invitation of Noble Kreider to meet in his home. During the course of the evening Mr. Kreider played several of his own piano compositions. French anagrams furnished further entertainment.

Members of the beginning French class were guests at the Christmas program where a gift exchange was a feature of the evening.

At a special Valentine meeting, several scenes from "Cyrano de Bergerac," one of the most noted of French dramas, were presented by members of the club. On two occasions special dinners were held in the dining hall. In December an after-dinner program was given in the dining hall, at which time "Le Pate et la Tarte" was staged. The year's activities were concluded with an Easter program with special entertainment and games in April, and an outing in May.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

Der Deutsche Verein is composed of students who have had five or more semester hours of study in the German language, or the equivalent of this amount. The club is organized to give opportunity to such students to develop facility in the use of the German language. It also seeks to aid its members in gaining greater knowledge of the German people and their customs, and to help them to appreciate German achievements in literature, art and music. Much time at the meetings of the club was devoted to the singing of German songs which occupy so large a place in the life of the German people. Games and contests were also used to make the evenings entertaining as well as profitable. The main feature of one meeting during the year was an address on "Spring" given in German by Dean Bender. One public program was given by the club, which featured a lecture on German art and architecture, thereby sharing with other students of the college some of the high lights of German culture.

The officers of the club for the year were as follows: president, Lloyd Conrad; vice president, Emanuel Hertzler; secretary, Margaret Bauer; treasurer, Isaiah Harley; fifth member of the executive committee, Clyde Miller. The club was again ably sponsored by Mrs. H. S. Bender, who is in charge of the German department of the college.

AUDUBON SOCIETY

The organization on the campus for those who love nature and bird life is the Audubon Society. Anyone can ramble through wood and meadow at random in search of feathered wild life, but it is in an organized group, such as the Audubons, that a person may follow his pursuits in a manner that is more systematic and efficient. Activity of this society is highest in the fall and spring when the group may get out-of-doors and study bird life. During the winter the society sponsored a public program in which pictures of birds in their natural habitats were shown. The group also enjoyed a skating party during midwinter. Much the same procedure was carried out on the outings as in other years. Beginning soon after daybreak, the group is divided into several smaller units led by Professors Glen Miller, Samuel Witmer, and Paul Bender, whom we are fortunate to have as active members of the society. After a period of intermittent hiking and bird study the groups meet at a prearranged location, compare their notes, and wait for what always proves to be the highlight of the hike. Anyone who has ever been an Audubon remembers the hot coffee and delicious sandwiches eaten around the comfortable campfire. Soon the group disbands, in order to be ready for first hour classes.

DEBATING

Question: Resolved, that the National Labor Relations Board should be empowered to arbitrate all industrial disputes.

The freshmen won both of the annual Freshman-Sophomore debates. In home-and-home debates with Marion College, February 10, the Affirmative A I won there and the Negative A I won here. In a dual debate with Taylor University at Taylor, February 22, the Affirmative A II lost; Negative A II won.

At the Manchester Tournament, February 25-26, the Affirmative A I won from Northern State Teachers College (Michigan), Manchester and Bowling Green; lost to Wayne U.; Illinois Normal U.; and Purdue U. The Affirmative A II won from Hanover, Manchester, Ripon, and Cincinnati U.; lost to Illinois Wesleyan and Akron U. The Negative A I won from Eastern Illinois Normal U., Capital U., Western State Teachers (Michigan), and Cincinnati U.; lost to Earlham and Lake Forest. The Negative A II, winning from Wabash, St. Viator, Evansville, Toledo U., and Bowling Green, and losing to St. Francis, excelled all previous tournament records of a Goshen College team. The Affirmative B won from Illinois Normal U. and Manchester; lost to Albion, Northwestern U., and Western State Teachers (Michigan). The Negative B won from Purdue U., Cincinnati U. and Manchester; lost to Western State Teachers and Northern State Teachers (Michigan).

After the tournament the Goshen Affirmative and Negative A II met Anderson in a dual debate at Goshen, March 10. The Goshen Affirmative and Negative A I enjoyed a dual non-decision debate at Wheaton, March 11. The Goshen Affirmative and Negative A I both won in a dual debate with Huntington at Goshen, March 18. In a dual debate with Calvin College at Goshen, March 21, the Goshen Affirmative A I and the Goshen Negative A II both won.

In opportunity for personal development and in percentage of victories won, this season has been successful.

Three members of the Class of 1901 annually present the three contestants placing first, second, and third with cash prizes of ten, five, and one dollars, respectively.

Numbers at the right indicate first, second, and third place in each contest.

THE NORTH GOSHEN CHURCH

Eight years ago the first Sunday School was held in an old celery barn in East Goshen. The Christian Workers' Band sponsored the work and did extensive visitation work and distribution of literature. Thus one hundred and fifteen families were reached in the school year of 1929-30.

The work grew and for a number of years the Sunday school was held in the East Goshen school house. Then for two years it was held on North Eighth street in an old dwelling house which was small and inconvenient. The need for a church building was presented to the neighboring congregations and several thousand dollars were contributed.

Fortunately, during the summer of 1936, a deserted church in Iowa became available for $300.00. It was torn down by friends from the Mennonite congregation near Wayland, Iowa, and sent to Goshen. It was reassembled here by friends from the college and neighboring churches. Now on the corner of Eighth and Summit streets, stands a nicely furnished church which will seat 200 people. The total cost was only $2,800.00, and the building is free from debt. The regular Sunday morning attendance averages 160.

In November, 1937, C. Warren Long, from Peoria, Illinois, conducted the first series of evangelistic meetings. The results were gratifying to all the workers. There was a total of forty-eight confessions; fifteen have been received by water baptism; nine by confession; six by letter. They range in ages from twelve to seventy-eight. Some of them have been attending the services since the first meeting in the old shed.

Paul Mininger, a member of the college faculty, has had charge of the church this year. The superintendents of the Sunday school are: Raymond M. Yoder and John A. Friesen; primary superintendents: Harriet Lapp and Mary Royer; chorister, Anna Hallman; janitor, Nelson Springer. The Thursday evening prayer meetings are in charge of Clarence Fretz.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL

The Goshen College Summer Session for 1937 began on Tuesday, June 8, and continued for nine weeks, until Saturday, August 7. The attendance was seventy-eight. This nine-week term was preceded by a spring term of six weeks which overlapped with the regular school year. The spring term attendance was thirty-two. Not counting duplicates the total was ninety-eight. Course offerings were slightly more extensive than in previous summers in order to care for the needs of the additional students who attended. Many of those attending were mature teachers who made use of the summer session in order to keep abreast of the advancement in education which is constantly taking place. For the spring term, in addition to the regular faculty members who taught additional courses, Perry J. Miller, M.A., principal of the Honeyville school in LaGrange county, Indiana, taught three courses in history and in education. Mrs. Glen Miller, M.A., taught one course in English. For the regular summer session Ralph Beechy, M.A., principal of the Berlin, Ohio, High School, was visiting instructor in education. Tillman Smith, M.A., principal of the Roanoke, Illinois, High School, taught the history courses. B. Frank Hartzler, as for several summers in the recent past, had charge of the music courses. Student activities for the summer were in charge of B. Frank Byler, chairman, and Justine Enss, secretary-treasurer. These students together with the committee appointed to sponsor the extra-curricular activities, had charge of the student religious services, social activities, athletics, and other aspects of campus life. Six graduates received diplomas from the two-year elementary teacher-training course; three received B.A. degrees; six received B.S. in Ed. degrees. The Convocation address was given by Rev. Paul Brosy, of Goshen.

SUMMER SCHOOL CALENDAR

JUNE

- 8 A continual downpour of rain accompanied the registration of Summer School students. The final enrollment reached seventy-four.
- 18 The girls of Kulp Hall enjoyed a wiener roast in the woods. The event was in honor of Miss Good and Miss Shenk.
- 24 After a few weeks of concentration and study, we enjoyed a campus frolic. We became acquainted and are certain we like each other better than ever before. Light refreshments were served in the maple grove after which the group listened to the stories of exciting moments of our student adventurers.
- 25 The most destructive of a series of storms this summer seriously damaged trees and shrubbery. Lightning struck the northeast corner of Science Hall, dislodging some of the cornice work.

- 25 Summer Bible School students gave a program in Chapel Hall.
- 30 - July 4 Young People's Institute. Among the visiting ministers who preached for us were: Clayton Derstine, Elvin Snyder, Milo Kauffman, and Warren Long.

JULY

- 3 Former students of Hesston enjoyed a breakfast in the Home Economics rooms Saturday morning. Among the group were the following visitors: Verna Enns, Estella Glasburn of Hesston, and Paul Erb, Dean of the College.
- 5 Miss Good left for her home near Markham, Ontario, leaving Iola Miller in charge of the girls.
- 6 Flies and mosquitoes were giving their usual concert on the night of July 5 and remained a while to dine.

THE WINTER BIBLE SCHOOL

The Winter Bible School held from January 3 to February 11, marked another increase in attendance over previous years. Following are the enrollments, churches, and states represented for the past four years:

Year	Students	States	Churches
1935	32	5	15
1936	50	6	23
1937	74	7	30
1938	89	8	34

The enrollment by states this year was: Indiana, 51; Ohio, 15; Illinois, 11; Iowa, 5; New York, 3; Michigan, 2; Nebraska, 1; Maryland, 1. The denominations were Mennonite, 84; Conservative Amish Mennonite, 4; Dunkard Brethren, 1. Men and women were quite evenly divided with 43 men and 46 women. From the Elementary Teacher Training course there were ten graduates, and for the completion of three six-week-terms of Bible study, eight persons received diplomas.

The regular instructors for the Bible Term were D. A. Yoder, x08, Elkhart; I. W. Royer, 00, Orrville, Ohio; and I. E. Burkhardt, 26, Goshen. Of the regular college faculty members the following offered each one course: President S. C. Yoder, Dean H. S. Bender, Silas Hertzler, Walter Yoder, 33, Mrs. Glen Miller, Mary Royer, 30, John Duerksen, 37, graduate student in Bible, taught elementary music.

Among the most encouraging features of last winter's course were the following: (1) A larger number of second and third winter students attended than ever before which added stability to the class work; (2) A larger number of students who hold offices in church and Sunday school attended which strengthened the spirit of purposefulness among the students; (3) The growth of the work is making it necessary to appoint an additional full-time teacher as soon as possible.

—I. E. Burkhardt.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION CLUB

The Elementary Education Club was organized five years ago. Its purpose is to create enthusiasm toward the teaching of boys and girls in the elementary schools, to stress the importance and dignity of teaching as a profession, to bring before its members some of the procedures as well as the ideals of public school work through securing as speakers successful teachers and administrators from the educational field, and to emphasize the need of a strong Christian foundation for the profession.—The sponsors of the club are the teachers in the Education department. Membership is open to all students now enrolled in courses in elementary teacher training and to all students who have taught previously.

The freshman members of the club comprise the final group to enroll in the two year teacher training course. Next year students wishing to take a similar course must enroll for a four year course because of the new state requirements. Besides the decision of the State Board of Education that from 1938 on a four year course must be taken was the stipulation that the critic teachers must have a bachelor's degree.

The minimum outline of studies for the four year course proposed by the State Board of Education is approximately:

- I 42% for general basic content cultural courses.
- II 11% for general basic professional courses.
- III 30% for specialized content and specialized professional courses.
- IV 17% for directed elective courses.

The teachers are confident that this new course will provide prospective teachers with a much more liberal background for their work and will prepare them more completely for teaching the youth of our land.

THE BIBLE SCHOOL

The Bible School is the oldest organized division of Goshen College and represents one of the most fundamental purposes of the founders of the institution. It was conceived with a two-fold ideal, first, to teach the Word of God as a means to a deeper spiritual life and more effective all-round living for all students, and second, to train for practical work in the Church. The emphasis in the Bible School has always been on a first hand study of the English Bible. However, adequate training in the original languages, in systematic theology, in church history and practical theology, has always been a part of the program.

The Bible School has kept pace with the growth of the college. The year 1938-39 marks a high point in achievement for the Bible School, with the largest enrollment in Bible in the history of the institution. A faculty of four offered a total of 28 different courses. A total of approximately 200 different students took one or more semester Bible courses.

An outstanding feature of the year's work was the large enrollment in advanced Bible work with a total of twelve students enrolled. Of this number six were post graduate students, and eight will receive the degree of Bachelor of Theology. The names of the candidates for this degree are as follows: Timothy H. Brenneman, John Paul Duerksen, Clarence Fretz, John A. Friesen, Lester T. Hershey, Harriet Lapp, and Raymond Mark Yoder.

A new feature of the year's work was required Bible for college freshmen. During the first semester the freshmen took "Introduction to the Bible," two hours, and during the second semester "Gospel of John," two hours. With the coming of Paul Mininger last fall, work in Christian education was greatly strengthened. Several new courses were offered in this field, all of which were well patronized. The Bible School students were organized into a fellowship and discussion group known as the Bible Circle. With the growing demand in the church for adequate workers, the Bible School has a bright prospect for service ahead.

ATHLETICS

LaVERNE YODER
ERNEST DAVIS

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Lotus Troyer

Ralph Greener

Ernest Davis

LaVerne Yoder

Glen R. Miller

At Goshen College we believe in an intramural program of athletic activities in principle and in practice. For many years the Athletic Committee of the faculty has based its policies on this type of program. The Physical Education instructors who teach and direct, and the student organizations that help promote interest in team sports and recreational activities feel that our present system does give every student opportunity to take part in some sports that he enjoys.

The general aim of an intramural program is to give everyone a chance to participate instead of training a few who are already superior. "An activity for every person and every person active," might well be the intramural slogan. We, and an increasingly large group of American educators and athletic directors, feel that the principle is basically good. For that reason we have tried to put it into practice here. Although our system is not perfect, the records of those who have participated during the present year show growing interest in athletic activities.

Among the women the interest in basketball and softball has been steady. Three class teams and two literary teams were formed. More worthy of mention is the increased interest in volley ball, tennis, and other recreational games. Six teams, three Freshmen and three Sophomore, played in the volley ball tournament. Over sixty women signed for tennis. Twelve played in the final Badminton tournament, and the same number in ping pong.

With the men interest in recreational activities is increased, but team games—softball, basketball, volleyball, and baseball—have, as they undoubtedly should, received more attention. Under the direction of Ernest Davis the program has steadily advanced. In the fall fifty-two men formed five teams in the softball league. There were four basketball teams in the A league during the basketball season. Seventy-two men played volleyball in the early spring tournament; and the four baseball teams played a schedule of twenty-one games. With tennis, archery, swimming, speedball, and track the athletic calendar has been completely filled.

The increased interest is encouraging not only to the athletic directors and Faculty Athletic Committee, but also to the students who help promote and work. We hope that it will be an incentive for the administration to continue improving our building, field, and equipment.

—LaVerne Yoder.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The past season was one of the most interesting in years for followers of Goshen College's basketball activities. The first game found the alumni coming back at Homecoming to oppose the varsity. The oldsters continued their irksome habit of previous years by handing the fighting varsity a beating. The battle was hard-fought, but was characterized by clean play and fine sportsmanship. The gym was filled to capacity for the contest.

The regular organized intramural schedule produced keen competition throughout the season. No team came through without tasting the sting of defeat at least twice. Four teams participated in league play: the Junior-Senior, Sophomore, Freshman A, and Freshman B. The Frosh A's took the top position in the league with the Sophomores coming in for second place. The season was climaxed with the free-for-all tournament between the contenders. Again the Frosh A's came through to victory, but not without some rough going. For the most part, the games during the season were very close, and many were decided by less than a five point margin.

Along with the interest shown in the regular team play, the Auroras and Adelprians came in for their share of attention with their age-old feud on the athletic program. The games drew the largest crowds of the winter. The Auroras finally turned the trick of taking the basketball title away from the Adelprians with two consecutive victories after searching for that very thing for seven years.

The season's activities were well organized, and progressed smoothly under the capable direction of the heads of our ever-improving athletic departments.

AT GOSHEN COLLEGE YOU —

Go to Branstrom's or to Miller's for that refreshing "coke".

Have the Goshen Electric Shoe Shop help you to make those shoes last another six weeks.

Visit Sigmund Sorg. Inc., when in dire need of a watch to keep you from getting in too late.

Gas up at the Hay Oil Company when you can rent a car on Friday evening.

Carry home a lovely box of home made candy for "her" birthday from the Olympia Candy Kitchen.

Discuss with the Smith Auto Works or the Roth Motor Company ways and means of keeping the old car running until you get home to "Dad".

These are just some of the local people with whom you deal in business ventures. By turning the following pages you will gain some useful information on where you can get that useful something in Goshen.

And to make this journey more pleasant we invite you to enjoy some of the high lights on the Goshen College Campus during the past year.

TO REMINISCE—

To wander restlessly
Amidst the interlacing threads of hurried events

Past—but indifferently experienced.

To recall the tasks half 'complished, duties
only just begun

Thrust heedlessly aside.

To view with intellect's eye that which was offered me,

And realize my lame awareness of the offering.

Is to say—Time Was.

TO VISUALIZE—

To ponder endlessly

Upon those dazzling visions shown to me alone,

And guarded jealously by me!

To search the horizon of mind's monstrous bounds and with eagerness

Await that primeval image.

To catch a glimpse—and quiver with exalted pleasure;

To rush out breathless, impatient to touch,
to guarantee reality.

Is to believe—Time Will be.
